Our Week of Learning

Reading & Writing

In reading, we are focusing on comprehension of a story. To have good comprehension readers should be able to retell the beginning, middle, and end of a story in their own words. Have your child do this after reading a book with them at home. They should be able to do this on their own! They are allowed to go back and look at the text.

Math

We are still working on Topic 11. Subtracting with Tens and Ones. Students should be drawing pictures or using mental math to help the subtract.
